

The Real Me

Amina Buddafly

I don't care what anybody think so I'm gonna keep doing me
I don't hear what they say I should live by, I'm gonna do as I please

Cause it's my one life, I don't owe anyone anything
I try to do my best and keep being strong despite everything

That they have to say trying to wake up a monster
That doesn't exist, cause I am an Angel, Angel
Flown away into my own world
Where I can't hear or feel or see
Anything but my identity
And the real me, real me
Real me, real me

I don't think I've ever felt this lonely but loved at the same time
Oh they hate me but they never break me, not till the day I die
And I won't spend my time trying to convince you of who I am Cause if I did you probably wouldn't get it cause you're just d ifferent

I see you woke up today trying to wake up a monster
That doesn't exist, cause I am an Angel, Angel
Flown away into my own world
Where I can't hear or feel or see
Anything but my identity
And the real me, real me
The real me, the real me

Sorry to tell you who you thought I am just ain't the truth
You ain't even got a clue

I don't care what anybody think so I'm gonna keep doing me
I don't hear what they say I should live by, I'm gonna do as I
please
Cause it's my one life, I don't owe anyone anything
I try to do my best and keep being strong despite everything

That they have to say trying to wake up a monster
That doesn't exist, cause I am an Angel, Angel
Flown away into my own world
Where I can't hear or feel or see
Anything but my identity
And the real me, real me
Real me, real me
