

MARILYN

Amir Obè

Said she wanna marry me
It's tearing me apart
White dress like Marilyn
But lately things been dark

Used to call me at the crack at dawn
Now she bout to call the cops
I'm locked up she got a lock on me
Bail me out what it cost

Loving you is like a Ferris wheel
Round and round and round
Light the fire burn the bridges
Down and down to the ground
Never knew what you was feeling
Never knew how you felt
You was supposed to be my medicine
Now I'm taking something else

'Cause it's easy to tell me you love me
It's easy to tell me you love me
You too bad to be true but I can't cut you loose
If it's easy, it don't mean nothing

Said I wanna break up
I'm in love with someone else
Emptied the whole place up
Took it all its nothing left
Used to call me like "where you at?"
If only you knew what I'm staring at Can't believe I almost married that Dead to me I had to bury that

Loving you is like a Ferris wheel
Round and round and round
Light the fire burn the bridges
Down and down to the ground
Never knew what you was feeling
Never knew how you felt
You was supposed to be my medicine
Now I'm taking something else

'Cause it's easy to tell me you love me
It's easy to tell me you love me
You too bad to be true but I can't cut you loose
If it's easy, it don't mean nothing
