The Last with Pagan Blood

Amon Amarth

We storm ahead with swords and shields For victory we ride We fight the world on these battlefields To re-erect the pagan pride

We draw the blood of those in our way It's 'victory or die With pounding, raging fury we slay The Christian hounds will pay

Charge ahead, no retreat No mercy, none shall live To us there is no defeat No remorse to give

A wind of power blows from the north The enemy shivers to the core We slay with strength, pushing forth Silence before the storm

The gates of Valhalla open up The ground beneath us shakes As Odin leads the Gods to war The Rainbow Bridge cracks

Nothing can stop this final attack We carve up all in our path Now there is no turning back Final battle is here at last

A feast awaits us when we return Awaiting all that fought in wrath By the long fires we sit in glory And beer will cool our soar throats

We are few but strong in will The last with pagan blood We fought the world with burning steel Now we sit in Hall of Gods

Pride and glory in our hearts Pride and glory in our hearts