Born from Fire

Amorphis

I have a mind, a good memory
Here's how my life begins
I wasn't born from a woman's thighs
But from fire

I dwell on that dream
I don't want that to fade
I keep that dream
Until the axe does all that work

I was kept under the table Raised from their sigh I was worthless till the day When flames did all the work

On the day I was born They denied my rights Even the right to die