The Moon

Amorphis

On a rock like a tree
The one-eyed figure stands
Dauntlessly time and again
Breaking the salty wave

I guard this mountain
You circle me in the night

If you bow to the eye of stone
You'll hear a distant song
A story carried by the restless wind
Forevermore

The subdued silence of your lips
It commands only me
Unwavering my sinewy frame
The cold night it will endure

On this towering mountain
Your love even higher above

If you bow to the eye of stone
You'll hear a distant song
A story carried by the restless wind
Forevermore

If you bow to the eye of stone
You'll hear a distant song
A story carried by the restless wind
Forevermore

If you bow to the eye of stone
You'll hear a distant song
A story carried by the restless wind
Forevermore

You're the moon
You are my light
You're the moon
My guiding light

I guard this mountain
On a rock like a tree
I guard this mountain
