

Fall of the Empire

Amplifier

thesis and antithesis
go destroy your opposite dividing and conquering worked your fingers to the bone bring the creatures two by two money makers to the sword raised an empire there to leave standing for a thousand years

a thousand years

but who put the willing in their armies?
who put the bloodlust in their servitude?
who put the flame throwers on the playground?
who turned the children into soldiers to follow you?

HEY

are you waiting for the fall?

well isn't it about time?
it's so inevitable
you've come here with nothing at all

fire and brimstone preacher man know that holy scripture say eat alive the children
and sail their souls away
into the wilderness
into virgin skulls and bones
master of the unknown world
until the day you die

the day you die

but who put the willing in their armies?
who put the bloodlust in their servitude?
who put the flame throwers on the playground?
who turned the children into soldiers to follow you?
well who let corruption in the heartland?
who are the killers in sheep's clothing?
who wait to proclaim each new conversion?
hail each seizure and those who follow you well are you waiting for the fall?

it's so inevitable
you've come here with nothing at all
