

Planet of Insects

Amplifier

Jagged and broken look at your pieces split every nation of insect colonies

save one to be destroyed and one to be begun let the weaker bend to the will of the strong, the strong well you followed the swarm right out into space and let all the buzz right out of this place send some to the south you know you'll want to send one to the north you'll send one to each house of hand to mouth and of humans and spawn to be born

and all i know and ever see are insects crawling over me predating on their magic powers that radiate before their fingers and though they try to suck me dry they'll never manage to consume my feeling of overjoy overjoy
come let the masters feed in the fullness of time

that radiate before their fingers let the fuckers come and never come again they're hunting everyone left from the planet of men, of men

they'll never manage to consume my feeling
of overjoy overjoy
