

Here

Amy Grant

What does all this beauty mean?
It captures my attention and I'm speechless
Sunset, Tennessee, colors burn across the sky
Slowly fading golden rays
Greet the moon and kiss the day goodbye
And I do, I understand
Is this Your voice, saying "Here I am"?

I am here in the dark
In the quiet of your heart
I am here in your corner of the sky
I'm the light that fades away
At the turning of this day
I am here, I am here
Here, yeah

What does all this music mean?
The rhythm of a heartbeat and the symphony of every living thing
Ringing throughout time
The song of every single soul
In harmony our voices intertwined
And when did all begin?
Was it Your voice, saying "Here I am"?

I am here in the dark
I'm the music in your heart
I'm the song in every corner of the sky
I am here in the light
In the thunder late at night
I am here, I am here
Here, I am here

I am here in the dark
I'm the song in your heart
I'm the missing piece that you've had all along
I am here when you call
When you rise and when you fall
I am here, I am here
I am here, I am here
Here, here
I am here
Here, here
