There's never been a doubt But sometimes I feel afraid We need to talk it out That always makes it okay

Sometimes friends don't understand The love I have for You But everywhere I go, I know I just want more of You

I will never give You up Lord
Not in a million years
I will never give You up, never give You up
For as long as I live
I will never give You up Lord
Not in a million years
'Cause You have put this love inside my heart

I know You know me well You know it's struggle that's in my mind But since You hold my heart I'll leave the struggles behind

I don't have to understand
This love I have for You
'Cause everywhere I go, I know
I just need more of You

I will never give You up Lord
Not in a million years
I will never give You up, never give You up
For as long as I live
I'm so glad I found You, so glad I found You
Want to build my life around You
Oh, You've got to know
That I'll never let go of You, never let go

Oh, I will never give You up Lord
Not for a million years
I will never give You up, never give You up
For as long as I live
I will never give You up Lord
Not for a million years
'Cause You have put this love inside my heart

Never give You up Lord
For a million years
I will never give You up, never give You up
For as long as I live
I will never give You up Lord
For a million years
'Cause You have put this love inside my heart

Never give You up Lord

For a million years

I will never give You up, never give You up
