

Let The Light Back In

Amy Wadge

You go wild as a river running
You blow a cold like a winter coming
You know you're holding on, holding on
For something better, something better

Are you gonna let the light back in
Are you ever gonna let the light back in Darkness [?]
Are you ever gonna let the light back in

You go lost in the middle of it
You blow holes like a burning building
You know I'm hoping for, hoping for Something better, something better

Are you gonna let the light back in
Are you ever gonna let the light back in
And darkness [?]
Are you ever gonna let the light back in
