

Sometimes Love Gets Colder

Amy Wadge

We cannot go back to the silence
It won't get better, it won't get better
We ran out of hope when the walls came down
And buried us beneath the rubble so we never could be found
And after all the fire comes the sirens
It won't get better, it won't get better
All we are is strangers in the same four-minute spaces
Just a sea of empty faces in a tidal wave

And we cannot go back to forever
'Cause it won't get better, it won't get better
There is nothing left at the home we made
'Cause we locked all the doors and windows, now we never can be saved
And after every storm comes denial
'Cause it won't get better, it won't get better
And all we are is in between the devil and the deep blue sea
And we have got too deep to see the sky again

I know it's already gone, I know it is broken
We got all our chances wrong, left our words unspoken
I know it's already lost, I know it is over
We forgot what hurting cost

'Cause sometimes love, yeah sometimes love get colder
Yeah, sometimes love, yeah sometimes love get colder

'Cause we cannot come back from the fallout
'Cause it won't get better, it won't get better
There was nothing left when the floods came in Fallen just below the surface, we discovered it's not worth it

I know it's already gone, I know it is broken
We got all our chances wrong, left our words unspoken
I know it's already lost, I know it is over
We forgot what hurting cost

'Cause sometimes love, and sometimes love

(Sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love)
I know it's already gone, I know it is broken
(Sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love)
We got all our chances wrong, left our words unspoken
(Sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love)
I know it's already lost, I know it is over
(Sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love, sometimes love)
We forgot what hurting cost

'Cause sometimes love, yeah sometimes love gets colder
Sometimes love, yeah sometimes love, yeah sometimes love gets colder
Yeah, sometimes love, sometimes love gets colder