

U Should Not Be Doing That

Amyl And The Sniffers

Good morning
Can you shake off your skin?
I was struggling to tell you where I have been
'Cause I've been running around
Making mess of meself
I know how you feel about that
You told me once when I showed you that, but I am trying my best to get it on
Not everybody makes it out alive when they are young
I was in Tokyo, showing off my crack
And you told me that I should not be doing that, hey

I was in LA, shaking my shit
While you were down in Melbourne saying, "Fuck that bitch"
You were in New York, getting shit on
And they were down in Melbourne saying, "You should not be doing that"

I'm in my head, doing the work
I'm putting on these shoes and these socks 'cause I gotta get out of here
Another person saying I'm not doing it right
Another person tryna give me some kinda internal fight, but I'm working own my worth, I'm working on my work, I'm working on who I am
I'm working on what is wrong, what is right, and where I am
I know my worth, I'm not the worst you told me once I was
I cannot do this anymore, I gotta hit the buzz

'Cause I was in Tokyo, popping shit off
While you were down in Sydney trying to get jacked off
I was in London, being the queen
And you were in my head saying, "You should not be doing that"

I know my worth

I was in Naarm, working on my shit
While you were down in Tassie saying, "Flash those tits"
I was in Gadigal, showing off my flesh
While you were up in Brizzie trying to tell me I can't do it like that
