I'll Always Be Around

Amyst

Have you seen your face through the eyes of a thousand lions,
If I were you I'd rip it off and only wear it at night,

My arms are longing for you, I'll always be around waiting for you,
My heart is waiting for yours, I'll always be around wanting yo u,

You are my baby that's been crying lately,
You've been hiding in your skin,
I can see through the seams,
And it seems that heart's not so pure,
You always found a way of sinking into me,

My arms are longing for you, I'll always be around waiting for you,
My heart is waiting for yours, I'll always be around wanting yo u

Tears run down your face, I've lost my faith in you,
Like the rain from the sky, to hear you out
