

Sexiest Man Alive

Ana Popovic

Every breath he takes he takes with style
You can only have him for a little while, but that's alright
He can break your heart when he holds your hand
And make you want to change your plans for just one night
And when he takes you in his arms
Something else besides his charm holds you there
Somethin' that you can't define
That's got a grip on your mind, but you don't care

He's the sexiest man alive
What a sexy man

The beast within has got control
With eyes that pry and haunt you soul and won't be tamed
He's a whisper in a world of shouts
And even though you have your doubts you'll play his game
Some might call him a natural man
But he don't care to understand what they may say
Attitude you can't learn from books
And when he wants he's got a look that takes your breath away

He's the sexiest man alive
What a sexy man

On any street, any town, any time he comes around, there's some thin' in the air
He can hold you close, turn you on
And though you know he'll soon be gone, you just don't care
Could be his style, could be his class
That drives you wild 'til your heart beats faster in your chest
He's the kind of man that you got to try
Just one time before you die and forget the rest

He's the sexiest man alive
What a sexy man
