(feat. Joe Bonamassa)

Oohhh...
Moment he stepped on the train
He look look straight up at me
Mourn the [?] let's just say
Even a blind man could see (see)
I got pushed to his direction
That's just fine by me (fine by me)
One kiss later you might say
This was destiny

Feels what a rush!
But it just came keep me [?]
Feels like a hell when ama let
You take your lead
Feels like a rush
But it just came
Keep it down
I'm on the right
Which you dearly all across time
Feels like a rush Just a batter dry me a stain
May you sing
Baby let's get out, let's get out
Let's get out
Baby let's get out this train

We sat out of the station
Took a [?] stroll
Have you walked a downtown?
For my own a 25th floor
Cheap coffee and a coffee makeup
I am blinds and wallpaper (wallpaper)
It's all very real (real)l the smell of perfume
Sound of a [?] scratch and a window paint
Right in the next room

Feels what a rush!
But it just came keep me [?]
Feels like a hell when ama let
You take your lead
Feels like a rush
Just a batter dry me a stain
Baby let's get out, let's get out
Get out Baby let's get out this train
This train
Ama let you take the lead

Let's get on
Even my pain like I ever done before
Yeah we used to be perfect strangers
But were strangers no more
He reached for the key
To unlock the door hold on hold on Either I get you table baby or the kitchen floor
