

Symphony

Anastacia

I don't know what I'm supposed to say
When now suddenly you feel so far away
You are not prepared to talk
And you're too afraid to listen
Your words don't have the power anymore

I'm so confused, don't know which way to turn
Seems the more we love, the more we have to learn
I keep staring into space
Like it somehow has the answers
Don't let the music end, don't let it end

Symphony it's gone quiet around us now
How I wish you would hold me
That you never told me
But it's better if you leave
Look at the sun, we're starting to lose this fight
Where we once burned so brightly
Tell me we might be throwing it away

Well, you don't know what you've got until it's gone
But then nothing ever hurts like holding on
I am scared and unprepared, and I feel like I am falling
So, can you tell me where did we go wrong?

Symphony it's gone quiet around us now
How I wish you would hold me
That you never told me
It's better if you leave
Look at the sun, we're starting to lose this fight
Where we once burned so brightly
Tell me we might be throwing it away

Now every word is spoken
And I know we left so broken
I remember how we once felt
Something beautiful

Symphony it's gone quiet around us now
How I wish you would hold me
That you never told me
It's better if you leave
Look at the sun, we're starting to lose this fight
Where we once burned so brightly
Tell me we might be throwing it away
