Smile

Anavae

I ain't got a bright side
Don't tell me there's a silver lining
I ain't got a bright side
Cheer up baby, give us a smile

I kill everyone who dared to say your name
Leave me out, I'm no fun, I'm no fun, I'm so done
They should invent a pill to cure my obsession
But I'm just drinking sugar water and I'm definitely feeling
Very, very, very shoddy

I ain't got a bright side
Don't tell me there's a silver lining
Frowning never killed nobody
Just your bullshit, say you're sorry
And I know that you're only a man
But I swore that you were an angel
Now I know this is a losing game

Tearing out my eyes to rid my temptation
I am lacking affirmations, just grieve, breathe, breathe
You're making me your art and staying miserable
Will we always gravitate to all the things that make us tortured?

This is getting really boring

I ain't got a bright side
Don't tell me there's a silver lining
Frowning never killed nobody
Just your bullshit, say you're sorry
And I know that you're only a man
But I swore that you were an angel
Now I know this is a losing game

I'm in mourning
I've gone blind
Can't see the forest from the trees
Can't see my hopes from all my needs
I'm in darkness
I am dreamless
Like losing all my sense of time
I'm losing life behind the eyes
"Where do we go from here?"

I ain't got a bright side
Don't tell me there's a silver lining
Frowning never killed nobody
Just your bullshit, say you're sorry
And I know that you're only a man
But I swore that you were an angel
Now I know this is a losing game
