

Stay

Anavae

Just invisible,
Save for these letters and wagers pasted
Out by other souls with hearts of stone.
Save for made up names and altered faces,
Stretched and disguised, contempt for the human race.
It's not where we belong, we're burying our past.
Can't see where we've begun or where it is we're going.
It's not where we belong, we're parting with our past.
We'll tear it up and ask ourselves why couldn't we stay?
You're all just the same!
You're never gonna change your ways, you'll waste away.
We're never looking back 'cause you're the same.
Saying nothing is easier than telling it how it is,
You're caught up in routine.
Not feeling like electricity, just mediocre.
We need the pain to feel alive.

Why couldn't we stay?
You're all just the same!
You're never gonna change your ways, you'll waste away.
We're never looking back 'cause you're the same.
Why couldn't we stay?
You're all just the same!
I want to go home, but I am home.
I'm not what I preach but I am practising.
I want to go home...
But there's no place for me so I'll remain lost for now.
Why couldn't we stay?
You're all just the same!
You're never gonna change your ways, you'll waste away.
We're never looking back 'cause you're the same.
Why couldn't we stay?
You're all just the same!
You're never gonna change your ways, you'll waste away.
We're never looking back 'cause you're the same.
