

Have you felt a void numbling your soul,
and lit a candle just to watch it burn?
The flame dances but outside of tis stage, shadows creep.

Every day I fight to stay in the light
I endure the darkness
'cause it shows me the stars
and I vow to keep on spreading the light
'til the day I die.

When I find myself in doubt,
I look within and watch my virtues tame their own reverse, they're in balance but it's up to me to tip the scale.

Every day I fight to stay in the light
I endure the darkness
'cause it shows me the stars
and I vow to keep on spreading the light
'til the day I die.
Every day I fight to stay in the light
I endure the darkness
'cause it shows me the stars
Like a mirror I'm reflecting the light to the world around.

Being the hero is a choice,
I believe it with all that I am A spotless heart's not a gift, but a conquest that's worth striving for (Candid heart bathed in light

Spotless heart choosing light faithful heart praising light lavish heart spreading light Candid heart bathed in light
Spotless heart choosing light Spreading light)

Every day I fight to stay in the light
I endure the darkness 'cause it shows me the stars
and I vow to keep on spreading the light
'til the day I die.
Every day I fight to stay in the light
I endure the darkness 'cause it shows me the stars
Like a mirror I'm reflecting the light
to the world around.

Every day I find my path and I fight to stay in the light
