

Unending

Ancient Bards

Nightfall comes and time stands still
As dreams linger on your lips
Staring in silence, I know my miracle is here
In this harbor you're safe as you'll ever be
In my arms

How can I measure this love?
It's the Cosmos that grows without bounds
It's the stride of the time
It's the brilliance of truth
It's unending

Now that you are here
I keep chasing off the fear of your loss
My heart skips a beat
I could never be complete without you

Kneeling in silence, I pray you'll always be in light
In this moment I'm full as I'll ever be Holding you

How can I measure this love?
It's the Cosmos that grows without bounds
It's the stride of the time
It's the brilliance of truth
It's unending

How can I measure this love?
It's the Cosmos that grows without bounds
It's the stride of the time
It's the brilliance of truth
It's unending

And when I'm gone
Wherever you are my love will find you
It will lead you back home
To the place of the heart

Oh! How can I measure this love?
It's the Cosmos that grows without bounds
It's the stride of the time
the brilliance of truth
Oh! Now and forever
I will take you and bring you inside this love is unending

I can't measure love
I can't put it into words
I can only hope it shows
Cause everything that I ever do
Is for you
