

Anyway

Anderson East

She brings me slowly down
She brings the monsters out
She's like a fall with no landing
Leaves my heart empty handed
Then acts like it don't mean a thing

She's always hiding the sun
Never admits what she's done
And if she smiles she's lying
Never knows why she's crying
And if I was smart I would run

But I still want her anyway
Oh I still want her anyway
Even though I know nothing's gonna change
Oh I still want her anyway

Her lips that make me upset
Are same ones that make me obsessed
I should give up on expecting
I know where it's heading
But I can't let go of her yet

But I still want her anyway
Oh I still want her anyway
Even though I know nothing's gonna change
Oh I still want her anyway

'Cause I still want her anyway
Oh I still want her anyway
Even though I know nothing's gonna change
Oh I still want her anyway

Oh I still want her anyway
