

Nervous

Andra Day

This love is so polished
'Cause you stare into my walls that I've created
And you demolish them
But you look a little uncomfortable, baby

Could it be my eminence?
I can tell that you are taken, that you want it, yeah, you want control
Feign disinterest, but you always text
And you always call
Do I make you nervous?

I can't be your cup of tea
'Cause you know my eau de vie is more like, like Hennessy
And don't try to dilute it, no
I know I can come on strong, that's just where my head is There's more than one side, and I know you'll love all of them

Do I, do I make you nervous? Do I make you nervous?
Do I make you nervous? Do I make you nervous?
Do I make you nervous? Do I make you nervous?
Am I making you nervous? Oh

And you know there is nothing better, yeah
The presence of a woman brings wisdom, love, and feta
Leads you to a well that won't run dry, it's nothing wetter, oh
Leads you to a well that never dries, there's nothing wetter

And that makes you nervous
Oh, does that make you nervous? Do I make you nervous? Oh-ooh
That make you nervous? Oh
Oh, why you so nervous? Oh

Oh, do I, do I, do I, do I, do I
Do I, do I, do I, do I, do I
Do I, do I, do I, do I, do I
Do I, do I, do I, do I, do I make you nervous?

You know you make me nervous too
So, so there's no need to be nervous, you, mm
