

Forget Me Not

Andra

When you look back
Was there something left to say?
Anything to make us stay?
Love was free, but this pain has a price to pay
And scars run deep
Promises we failed to keep
This weight is falling down on me
And now, at the end, it's hard to believe

With every tear that I cry
Forget me not flowers die
With every tear that I cry
I realise this means goodbye
With every tear that I cry
I'm chasing you out of my mind
With every tear that I cry
I feel I'm coming back to life

You don't care for my reasons
It's all in vain
And, as the rivers flow, this pain will go away
I'll take time for me now
And embrace mistake
I'm free to run until your image fades away

When you look back
Was there something left to say?
Anything to make us stay?
Love was free, but this pain has a price to pay
And scars run deep
Promises we failed to keep
This weight is falling down on me
And now, at the end, it's hard to believe

With every tear that I cry
Forget me not flowers die
With every tear that I cry
I realise this means goodbye
With every tear that I cry
I'm chasing you out of my mind
With every tear that I cry
I feel I'm coming back to life

It ain't workin'
Broke down like an old music box
We still dancin'
But we both know that the music stopped
Caught up
In a sad place with no keys for the lock
Blind in the front row, watchin' the show, but the curtain dropped
Where are we?
It used to feel like a party
And now I'm downstairs with my bags packed in the lobby
Like I'm nobody, but then again nobody's perfect
You can shed a lot of tears, but, at this point, for me they're worthless

With every tear that I cry

Forget me not flowers die
With every tear that I cry
I realise this means goodbye
With every tear that I cry
I'm chasing you out of my mind
With every tear that I cry
I feel I'm coming back to life

When you look back
Was there something left to say?
Anything to make us stay?
Love was free, but this pain has a price to pay
And scars run deep
Promises we failed to keep
This weight is falling down on me
And now, at the end, it's hard to believe
