

Meet Again

Andragonia

It is the end Which way we'll have to take?

Here we stand in the end of the line
No way back where will we go?
Time for changes has come for us
From now on we're on our own...

Don't look behind 'cause there's no time to waste

It's time to realize,
Sometimes we've got to take one step behind
The road is long enough to reach the end
And we will find out we will meet again...

We had our chances we've learned by the hard way

Since we have been fighting
All the things became so strange
The trust we had lives no more
The joy has gone and now there's pain

The love we shared now have to fade away

It's time to realize,
Sometimes we've got to take one step behind
The road is long enough to reach the end
And we will find out we will meet again...
