

Be Loved

Andrew Allen

Some day we'll look upon the stars that we named
The final pieces of a love we couldn't save
But here we are
I know it's hard to think our hearts will ever mend
Someday we'll love, and be loved again

Round and round we go
Trying not to let it show
I can feel it in my bones
We can't outrun the rain
I'm not running out but
More I think about it
I begin to doubt that
We really wanna change

No matter how hard we try
There's something missing and wishing ain't gonna make it right
You and I
Our hearts are in it but we're just living different lives
All I know
Is if we love each other we gotta let each other go
And even though it feels like the end
Someday we'll love, and be loved again

Some say the hardest part of love is letting go
And some say holding her is what you'll miss the most
But I don't know
'Cause nothing quite compares to losing your best friend
Someday we'll love and be loved again

No matter how hard we try
There's something missing and wishing ain't gonna make it right

You and I
Our hearts are in it but we're just living different lives
All I know
Is if we love each other we gotta let each other go
And even though it feels like the end
Someday we'll love, and be loved again

No matter which way we're going
Or how hard the wind is blowing
Our hearts are windows open
And made to survive
They were made to survive

Round and round we go
Trying not to let it show
I can feel it in my bones
We can't outrun the rain
I'm not running out but
More I think about it
I begin to doubt that
We really wanna change

No matter how hard we try
There's something missing and wishing ain't gonna make it right

You and I
Our hearts are in it but we're just living different lives
All I know
Is if we love each other we gotta let each other go
And even though it feels like the end
Someday we'll love, and be loved again
And even though it feels like the end
I promise you we'll love, and be loved again
Be loved again
Be loved again