

Stay

Andrew Allen

I, I know you're strong enough
But you, don't need to act so tough
Cause a waterfall can't be beautiful
If it's all dried up
Can I, refill you with my love?

Your heart is heavy
My dear
But when you're ready
I'm here

But your lips say you want me to go
And your hands try to push me away
But the tears in your eyes, and that broken down smile
Tells me you want me to stay

I, remember how you would shine
And I, wanna bring you back to that time
If the stars above, they start giving up
No they won't burn bright
Can I, darling, can I be your light?

Your lips say you want me to go
And your hands try to push me away
But the tears in your eyes, and that broken down smile
Tells me you want me to stay

Ohhhh...

Your heart is heavy
My dear
But when you're ready
I'm here

Your lips say you want me to go
And your hands try to push me away
But the tears in your eyes, and that broken down smile
Tells me you want me to stay

Oh your lips say you want me to go
And your hands try to push me away
Every tear you let fall
Darling I'll catch 'em all
Just tell me you want me to stay
Just tell me you want me to stay
