Stick In The Wheel

Andrew Allen

Always walkin', smilin', smirkin', thinkin' he knows more about the other guy Watchin', learnin', hopin', feelin' sorry for the person who fo rced you to cry Mama knows best but does she really know just what's happening? What on earth made this kid so frightening? You're just a stick in the spoke of my wheel, You don't care how the other people feel And if they should fall I'm pretty sure you wouldn't care at all. Little boy cryin', hurtin', wishin' you hadn't popped his prize balloon When he gets bigger, better watch your back because it's you he 'll tune Are you mad at the world? All the people painting favorite colors but it is you who swirl ed You're just a stick in the spoke of my wheel You don't care how the other people feel

And if they should fall. I'm pretty sure you wouldn't care at all
