

Honey and Milk

Andrew Belle

Honey and milk, honey and milk
What do you want, what do you want
Is it more than you got, more than you got
Is it more than you know, more than you know

The moon's right there in front of me, I can see you with my mind
Moves right there inside of you love, but you're holding me down
The moon's right there in front of me, I can see you with my mind
Moves right there inside of you love, but you're holding me down
You're holding me down

Bottle of smoke, bottle of smoke
You follow the grid, follow the grid
But spare the rod, spare the rod
When you spoil the kid, spoil the kid

And I just want a glimpse of it with my feet on the ground
And I'm not scared to climb 'cause I heard that you're holding me down
And I just want a glimpse of it with my feet on the ground
And I'm not scared to climb 'cause I heard that you're holding me down

Cause this is the water I'm swimming in, swimming in
And this is the moment where we're coming undone, undone
And this is the bottle now, fill it in, fill it in
And this is the moment that we both run from, run from

Honey and milk, honey and milk
Where is your mind, where is your mind
The water is warm, water is warm
Is that a surprise? That a surprise?

Cause this is the water I'm swimming in, swimming in
And this is the moment where we're coming undone, undone
And this is the bottle now, fill it in, fill it in
And this is the moment that we both run from, run from

And this is the water I'm swimming in, swimming in
And this is the moment where we're coming undone, undone
And this is the bottle now, fill it in, fill it in
And this is the moment that we both run from, run from
Run from, run from