

Kiss This One Goodbye

Andrew Gold

You're a pretty little girl born with the face of an angel
Always been raised in the lap of luxury
Always got every man you wanted no matter what the cost
I guess you never wanted a man who needs love
One who needs love

Won't you tell me what you think of me
When you're so careless endlessly
Do you think it's you I want to see tomorrow
'Cause I can do without your valentines
You sold those once a thousand times
To the men who buy your lies
But you can kiss this one goodbye

The truth is in your lonely world
It doesn't need one more heartache
And there ain't enough room for the kind of games you play
No way
And one of these days if you need somebody
And no one really cares
You're gonna reach out but nobody's gonna be there
No one's gonna be there

Won't you tell me what you think of me
When you're so careless endlessly
Do you think it's you I want to see tomorrow
'Cause I can do without your valentines
You sold those once a thousand times
To the men who buy your lies
But you can kiss this one goodbye

Go ahead and tell me, tell me where I'll be
When you're so careless endlessly
Do you think it's you I want to see tomorrow
You never sell me, sell me valentines
The ones you sold one thousand times
To the men who buy your lies
But you can kiss me goodbye
Goodbye
