

Oh Urania

Andrew Gold

One hundred million billion stars up in the sky,
Each one looks so beautiful reflected in your eyes.
I wonder if there could be life up there,
A perfect world evolving anywhere.

Down here the people have such problems on their hands,
Nothing to believe in and fear divides the land.
Can it be so unhappy everywhere?
Is there a place where everybody cares?

Oh Urania... Take me with you
Oh... Take me away.

One hundred million billion stars up in the sky,
Each one looks so beautiful reflected in your eyes.
I wonder if there could be life up there,
A perfect world evolving anywhere.

Oh Urania... Take me with you
Oh... Take me away.

Oh Urania... Take me with you
Oh... Take me away.

Oh Urania... Take me away (Take me away)
