

Prisoner

Andrew Gold

Prisoner
You're becoming a solder
Prisoner
Of a lonely war
With a worn out beat
And a useless key

Well tell me soldier
How it feels to be
A prisoner

Prisoner

Well you left your home
As every child must do
From time to time
Like a lion's young
Who must die or run
You finally must see that your life has begun
Free the prisoner

You got to walk out on the line
But you don't now anymore

Goodbye
Goodbye

Just pick up your head and go
And close the door

Hello hello hello

Prisoner
Well you left your home
As every child must do from time to time
But like a lion's young who must die or run
You finally must see that your life has begun
Free the prisoner
And free the prisoner