

Like Yesterday

Andrew Jannakos

Yesterday

You woke up, head on my chest, smile on your face
Then you poured two cups coffee like we do every day
And left a note, "I love you, baby", it's little things
And some things never change
It all feels like yesterday

And a lifetime ago

When I picked you up then dropped you off back home
Fifty years could pass, our heart's beat just as close
As they did, on that night when we first kissed
Ain't it crazy, babe, the way love moves fast and slow
Feels like yesterday and a lifetime ago

Palms all sweaty

A dozen roses on the dashboard of my two-tone Chevy
You came floating down the stairs, looking sunset pretty
It's every other memory, I'm still blown away
It feels like yesterday

And a lifetime ago

When I picked you up then dropped you off back home
Fifty years could pass, our heart's beat just as close
As they did, on that night when we first kissed
Ain't it crazy, babe, the way love moves fast and slow
Feels like yesterday and a lifetime ago

Feels like yesterday when we first met

Yesterday when you said yes
Yesterday when we both said "I do"
Yesterday he took his first breath
Yesterday he took his first steps
Yesterday was his first day of school
It all feels like yesterday

A lifetime ago

When I picked you up then dropped you off back home
Fifty years could pass, our heart's beat just as close
As they did, on that night when we first kissed
Ain't it crazy, babe, the way love moves fast and slow
Feels like yesterday and a lifetime ago
