

Miracle Of You

Andrew Ripp

Baby, it's me, not you
You're never, ever gonna believe what I've been through
To change the way I am
And it's hard to find
Love that brings you peace of mind
When you don't have to change the way you are

And I've been wonderin' where my mind's been
Runnin' off these days
I've been waiting, anticipating for the time
To introduce myself and say

That the ghost still flies so very late at night
Reminds me of the only thing that's true
And I believe it's just another miracle of you

Baby, it's plain to see
Everybody's turnin' their back on me but you
You know the way I feel
And it's hard to breathe
Baby, it's so hard to please the one who's scared
We both know this is real

I've been wonderin' where my mind's been
Runnin' off these days
I've been waiting, anticipating for the time
To introduce myself and say

That the ghost still flies so very late at night
Reminds me of the only thing that's true, oh
I believe it's just another miracle, a miracle of you

Oh, it's the ghost that flies so very late at night
That reminds me of the only thing that's true, oh
I believe it's just another miracle
And I believe it's just another miracle
Oh, yes, I know it's just another miracle of you

Baby, it's me, not you
You're never, ever gonna believe what I've been through
