Fall To Fragments

Android Lust

Is it the light I see?
Is it the water that bathes me?
Or is it your kingdom which begs me?

So abusive I can't breathe guilt brings paralysis my hands are left to rot my eyes pryed open clense this body I give from its impurities accumulated for years from ignorance and blind fears

So reflective you can see the layers of this shedding skin conscious or self deciet I await the vision

Is it the light I see?
Is it the water that bathes me?

I surrender to my will regurgitate old beliefs dedicated to my deeds
I fall to fragments on my knees

So reflective you can see the layers of this shedding skin conscious or self deciet I await the vision

So reflective you can see the layers of this shedding skin
