

Heart Of Stone

Andru Donalds

Heart of stone
Heart of stone, heart of stone
Heart of stone, heart of stone

I watch her dance for her life
She lives her life by the night
I feel that I have to know her
Seen the other side of life
Generates, fascinates
Makes me wanna touch and feel her
So she sells her soul
And she is cold
And I feel her inside as she cries
And she's touched down she wants to die

I know that you would rather be alone
I wanna get into your heart of stone
I know it's hard when it's the life you know
I wanna get into your heart of stone
When you're alone
When you're alone

She needs a break from the beast
Who runs her life as we speak
....Is like a lifetime
So young and yet so old
I'm touched how she is so pure
Love is what her world is missing

As she dances her baby cries
....ruins her life
Wish that I could sing into her mind
And flow
(Repeat)

I know that you would rather be alone
I wanna get into your heart of stone
I know it's hard when it's the life you know
I wanna get into your heart of stone
When you're alone
When you're alone

An angel of softness
Through the heart of sighs
I find myself loving her softly so tender
My body is only my heart
Oh let her oh
I'll never stop loving her

I know that you would rather be alone
I wanna get into your heart of stone
I know it's hard when it's the life you know
I wanna get into your heart of stone
When you're alone
When you're alone
