

The second time around

Andrzej Zaucha

A cloud of dust behind.
Blue sky now fills the windshield.
Open road to travel far;
If I lucked out this time
There's still a chance that maybe
It's the second time around,
I'm driving to forget.
To run away from mem'ries.
But the blues they put me down.
When I look back at you,
I wonder what you're thinking,
Wonder what's become of love.
Of the love that we found like a lucky card
That we played to the hilt, do or die
Because it seemed we have roped a lucky star. And it seemed that we would ju st never part.
Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never
Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around.
A cloud of dust behind,
Blue sky now fills the windshield,
Open road to travel far;
If I lucked out this time
There's still a chance that maybe
It's the second time around.
For the love we will find like a lucky card
And we'll play to the hilt, do or die
And it'll seem we have roped a lucky star,
It will seem we will just never part.
Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never
Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around.
Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never
Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around.
I'm driving to forget,
To run away from mem'ries.
But the blues they put me down.
When I look back at you,
I wonder what you're thinking.
Wonder what's become of love.
Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never

Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around.

Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never
Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around. Hmmm...
Believe me baby
Life's got a lot to offer
Believe me baby
You never should say never
Believe me baby
That there is still another chance
For the second time around. - oh, oh...