

Keeper

Andy Brown

She probably came out of nowhere
She probably scared you to death
I bet you looked in her eyes
And she said she won't fly like nobody else

I bet you told her the secrets
You never told anyone
And you thought she would
But she didn't run

She can love you at your darkest
Break your heart the hardest
Cut you deep and heal you deeper
Call her an addiction
Call her a religion
Either way you're a believer
She's a keeper
Keeper

She's met all of my demons
They tried to push her away
But when it's all said and done
When you found the one, leaving doesn't take

Now all I wanna do
Is get closer to
Being the kind of man
She seems to think I am

She can love you at your darkest
Break your heart the hardest
Cut you deep and heal you deeper
Call her an addiction
Call her a religion
Either way you're a believer
She's a keeper
Keeper
Yeah, yeah

Oh when you've found the one
Don't let go
Oh when you've found the one
Make sure she knows

She can love you at your darkest
Break your heart the hardest
Cut you deep and heal you deeper
Call her an addiction
Call her a religion
Either way you're a believer
She's a keeper
She's a keeper
She's a keeper
She's a keeper
Keeper
Oh, oh (She's a keeper)
She's a keeper

Keeper
Oh (She's a keeper)
She's a keeper
