This time, I'm coming home
I gotta say I'm sorry
She was my one mistake
The last one I'll ever make

I broke you down, I told you lies And in my way, I made you love me And through it all, there's gotta be We go through those changes with

One love is better than many
Who cares what magic dream
There might have been, I'm lonely for
One love, I live without any
Your love, the dream, make it real

This time, I'm someone else
I'm not the one who hurt you
You are my destiny
The love light inside of me

And who am I? If not for you An empty soul with no tomorrow Smiling eyes or starless skies We go through those changes with

One love is better than many
Who cares what magic dream
There might have been, I'm lonely for
One love, I live without any
Your love, the dream, make it real

Just give me
One love is better than many
Who cares what magic dream
There might have been, I'm lonely for
One love, I live without any
Your love, the dream, make it real

Just give me One love
