

Amazing

Andy Grammer

Dust off your heart and take it for a spin
I know it's been a while since love has been
Why don't you come outside?
My arms are open wide
And I'll be here until you realize, realize

Cause I'll be standing on your doorstep
Light hotter than the sunset
Just take your sweet time, babe
I'll let you sleep
Cause the love that I'm holding
Will still be here in the morning
I'm just sitting here hoping
You'll come down to me
And we could be amazing
And we could be amazing

You know you're gonna have to trust again
So throw on your shades and stop your worrying
I got your heart, your back
So don't stress out on that
Us being here is not an accident, accident

Cause I'll be standing on your doorstep
Light hotter than the sunset
Just take your sweet time, babe
I'll let you sleep
Cause the love that I'm holding
Will still be here in the morning
I'm just sitting here hoping
You'll come down to me
And we could be amazing
And we could be amazing

You've done something right to keep me up all night
I could wait forever in your smile
I will not give in, you will love again
Open up your heart and say you'll try
Say you'll try

Cause I'll be standing on your doorstep
Light hotter than the sunset
Just take your sweet time, babe
Cause I'll be standing on your doorstep
Light hotter than the sunset
Just take your sweet time, babe
I'll let you sleep
Cause the love that I'm holding
Will still be here in the morning
I'm just sitting here hoping
You'll come down to me
And we could be amazing

We could be amazing
And we could be amazing
And we could be amazing
And we could be amazing
