

Unforgivable

Andy Grammer

Could've sworn we were invincible
It was the only thing I knew
Now I'm thinking the unthinkable
And I can't tell if it's true

Watch the door close, take a step back
I won't follow, I won't react
Keep a straight face, say I'm alright
While my heart breaks on the inside

Learning to live, learning to live
Learning to live, learning to live
Learning to live, learning to live
To live with the unlivable
To forgive the unforgivable

I'm not one for being miserable
Don't go down without a fight
But I'd rather be invisible
Than see myself in this light

Watch the door close, take a step back
I won't follow, I won't react
Keep a straight face, say I'm alright
While my heart breaks on the inside

Learning to live, learning to live
Learning to live, learning to live
Learning to live, learning to live
Learning to live, I'm learning to live
To live with the unlivable
To forgive the unforgivable
To forgive the unforgivable
