Priorities

Like what come first and what come last
Like what's right now and what's gon' last
I'll get back to you one day if you ain't my day one
I don't got time but for you I'll make some 'cause

You know you're my (Priority)
What's on your mind? (Priority)
What come first, what come last
Time been moving and it's way too fast
You know you're my (Priority)

Yeah, I got a little bit of time, I got a lot of dreams
I can't be out here giving everybody everything
I really want to do it for 'em 'cause my heart big
When I see the wedding ring emoji I don't let it ring, nah mean
Never really had a problem being bored
Always feeling like my day a little too short
I still be ballin' when I go show up at the court, but Now I be getting two games instead of like four
Tell me what's important
I've been thinking about the people that I call my core friends
I had a guy that I call my best friend my whole life
When my mama died, he didn't even slide
I just realized you can't measure love by the time
Now I got a focus on mine
I don't hate 'em, I just gotta re-prioritize 'em
I don't got no time for nothing if it's one sided

I don't need no one
That only wanna take and they don't wanna make no deposit
I don't need no one
Who always wanna drink but they don't wanna pay for the bottle
Nah, finally learned how to chill
Take a break before I break my mental health
I know I'm no good to nobody else if I don't know how to be good to myself

Priorities

Like what come first and what come last
Like what's right now and what's gon' last
I'll get back to you one day if you ain't my day one
I don't got time but I'll make some

You know you're my (Priority)

Hold up

Can't give this time away to no one
Except for you, I need you closer
That's why I'm on my way to you, you
So why do I keep on giving the least to people I say that I love the most?
Shouldn't get anything less than all my best
Instead they be getting what's left over
I want a hundred percent from God

But only wan' give Him a quarter of me
I grabbed my phone when I woke up this morning
Gotta reorder my priorities

I need God in my life, yeah
'Cause we don't be talking enough
I give a call when I'm stuck
Not when I'm all the way up
I think He calling my bluff
I said I don't got no time for 'I'm
We make the time for the things that we love
You tell me what are your priorities

Like what come first and what come last
Like what's right now and what's gon' last
I'll get back to you one day if you ain't my day one
I don't got time but for you I'll make some 'cause

You know you're my (Priority)
What's on your mind? (Priority)
What come first, what come last
Time been moving and it's way too fast
You know you're my (Priority)
