

Eventually

Andy Shauf

Could you believe when he took your hand in his
When he pulled you in close for the kiss
When his smile brought another to you
When your eyes said you loved him too
Oh time moves on eventually

When the nurse let you hold your first son
When he learned how to talk and run
When one turned into four and to five
Did you feel even more alive?
Oh time moves on eventually

When I was born were you proud for me
When I biked down the street and watched tv
Did you know I'd grow up finally
Are you proud of who I've come to be?
Oh time moves on eventually

When he got sick in the cold of the winter
Did you wait by his bedside through the night
Did the memories find you in a hurry
Did you make it through alright?
Oh time moves on
Time moves on,
Time moves on eventually,
Moves on eventually,
Time moves on eventually
