

High upon a Mountain

Andy Williams

High, high upon a mountain
I have a secret shrine
High, high above the stormy cloud
There the sun will always shine

High, high upon a mountain
I go alone to pray
All nature holds me in its arms
All my burdens fall away

I don't follow a winding highway
And it's not on any map I've ever known
In my heart there's a special skyway
That leads to a place all my own

High, high upon a mountain
I have a secret shrine
All the Heavens sings inside my heart
Peace and happiness are mine

High, high upon a mountain
There I'll always know that peace and happiness are mine
