I'm home
Not a stranger
It seems
I've been away from you forever
Your beauty
Still haunts me
Since you first cast your magic spell on me

I'm home
Where my heart lies
At last
I know you're all I ever wanted
I see you
Through new eyes
And now the vision takes my breath away

Like a jewel in the ocean
Mystical land
Full of hidden treasure
God's own creation
You've given my heart
So much pleasure

I've dreamed
Of this moment
So many times
In many different places
I'm out of the shadows
And once again
I'm in your warm embrace

God's own creation
You've given my heart
So much pleasure

Back where love started
I know I'll never leave your shores
No never
I cried when we parted
Now all those tears
Have turned to tears of joy
I'm home
And I will spend my life with you
