

Impossible

Andy Williams

If they had ever told me
How sweet a kiss could be
I would have said "Impossible
Impossible for me"

And if they said "You'll find love
Beyond the rainbow's end"
I would have said "Impossible
Impossible, my friend"

To dream about what might have been
Is strange enough for me
But now it seems I'm living in
A dream too beautiful to be

If they had said a moonbeam
Would calm a stormy sea
I would have said "Impossible"
But now at last I see
That nothing is impossible
If you are here with me
