

One Track Memory

Andy Williams

I've gone in every direction
Been down every road
And beat up every river
That ever float
When I find me a someone
In some distant place, honey
That's when I see your face

I got a one track memory
Can't get off that line
Once that train gets rolling
It's the same old ride

It don't matter where I go
It don't matter what I do
It don't matter who I'm with
You're bound to be there too
I got a one track memory
Keeps coming back to you

Well, you think by now
That old flame would dim
But it still lights the heart
That it's burning in

Can't help how I feel
But I do wish I knew
How to get over you

Cause I got a one track memory
Can't get off that line
Once that train gets rolling
It's the same old ride

It don't matter where I go
It don't matter what I do
It don't matter who I'm with
You're bound to be there too
I got a one track memory
Keeps coming back to you

Ooh, and I remember your touch
Those bright baby blues
There was certain loving things
Only you could do
I got a one track memory
Keeps coming back to you

I got a one track memory
Once that train gets rolling
It's the same old ride

It don't matter where I go
It don't matter what I do
It don't matter who I'm with

I got a one track memory
