

All We Want Is Love

Ane Brun

On and on
We wait for we hear a wounds
And move forward
All we want is love

It breaths for us
It feeds us even though
We don't really know it
All we want is love
All we want is love
All we want is love

It's as light as butterflies
And when we miss it
We fantasies
All we want is love

It wakes us up
Early in the morning
Or helps us sleep
All through the night
All we want is love
All we want is love
All we want is love

We give up our names for it
We arrange parades fighting for it
We buy castles and go to get it
And we say through countless songs
All we want is love
All we want is love

We reflect ourselves in it
To make sure
That we exist
All we want is love
