

Crumbs

Ane Brun

You'll never be more than a lover
You will always be the hide-out
You've tried it over and over
But you will always be the hide-out
The hide-out

You explain it all to yourself
You know it very well
You just need the little you take
'Cause he's not deceiving
He's just suffering
And you can't see yourself leaving

You went to see him, so hungry
Picked up the crumbs and let him feed you
You want him to need you, don't you
He wants your warm hands to heal him
You can't heal him

You explain it all to yourself
You know it very well
You just need the little you take
'Cause he's not deceiving
He's just suffering
And you can't see yourself leaving

He tries to fit you in
Between his conscious lies and his denials
I've been there, my friend
Dressed up in my best chameleon skin

You explain it all to yourself
You know it very well
You just need the little you take
'Cause he's not deceiving
He's just suffering
And you can't see yourself leaving

A starving (I want in)
Operator (I want in)
Connecting
(I want in)

A starving (I want in)
Operator (I want in)
Connecting
(I want in)

A starving (I want in)
Operator (I want in)
Connecting
(I want in)

A starving (I want in)
Operator (I want in)
Connecting (I want in)
(I want in)