

free me

anees

Sing it with me in one, two, three, and

I love myself enough to keep some space from you
You don't control me anymore, no
I'm not the old me, now I'm my own me
And I'm, I'm so aware of all the toxic things you do
So you can leave me and believe me
That when you see me, I'ma be the free me 'cause I

I'm free, freer than I've ever been
I'm me living in my element
I won't be under your control
No, not anymore, baby
You'll see, see me like I'm heaven-sent
I feel, alive when I'm irreverent
I won't be under your control
And you won't see me no more

I love myself enough to keep some space from you
You don't control me anymore, no
I'm not the old me, now I'm my own me
And I'm, I'm so aware of all the toxic things you do
So you can leave me and believe me
That when you see me, I'ma be the free me 'cause I

Because I choose to be free
Because I enforce the boundaries around my energy
'Cause, 'cause I choose to be me (Yeah)
I won't surround myself with people
That would steal my inner peace

You gotta choose to be free, too
And be careful with the people
That you give your energy to
They say they love you but they hurt you
So make 'em wait, give 'em space
Tell 'em patience is a virtue

And certain people in your life, they won't respect it
The same ones who can get rejected, and
If they steal the peace inside your cerebellum
You know what you gotta do
You gotta sit 'em down and tell 'em I

I love myself enough to keep some space from you
You don't control me anymore, no
I'm not the old me, now I'm my own me
And I'm, I'm so aware of all the toxic things you do
So you can leave me and believe me
That when you see me, I'ma be the free me 'cause I

I'm free, from toxicity and I'll be
The happiest me that you've ever seen
And I'ma rise from the ground like a rose from the seed
I feel beautiful whenever I protect my energy
Sometimes you gotta make space from fake people to breathe

So when you see me, I'm happy just being me
And when you see me, yeah
I'ma be the free me 'cause I
