Anella Herim

As much as I want you
I'm better without you
Been spending a whole lot more time on my own
Can't stop thinking about you

I don't want you back
I'm just stuck in the past
You felt like a drug I don't wanna relapse
If time was money I wish I was broke
Cause you left me broken and hoping for that

But I don't want change no
Nah
I don't want change nah

And I don't wanna feel no more
I already lost that war
And I got the scars to prove that you was the one I was fighting for

But why did we fight so much
Why did you lie so much
Better make up your mind
Cause if you tryna be mine
I ain't tryna ask why so much
(Nah)
Why you there and not here
Was I not enough for you?
I ain't gone lie, there was a couple of times
I was probably too much for you

Wanna fight but I fly
It's the season to die
Baby that's why I run from you

Cause cuffing is tough
When you run out of love
But I swore that I'd try for you

And I don't want change no
Nah
I don't want change nah
I don't want change no
Oh
I don't want change nah

(I don't want no change no)
(I don't want no change)

(No)
(No)

I don't want change no
(No)

I don't want change no
(I don't want)
I don't want change no

(I don't want no change)

I've stopped asking questions because I don't want answers
I'm afraid Imma die before I get what I'm after
I pray that my days end with family and laughter
If that be the case, may rest in peace
I don't give a damn if they remember me cause

I don't want change no
